CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1875.

THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1875.

Their Name is Legion.

When there are so many good men who want the place, it is a pity we can have but one Governor at a time. Only think what must be the condition of things in New York or Pennsylvania, when California, with her less than three-quarters of a million population, has her thousands of good men and true, every one of whom is so confident that he would grace the gubernatorial chair that he is both willing and anxious to test his qualities in that capacity. Below are a few of those whose names have been mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial candidacy at the next general election:

Thos. H. Selby, Gen. J. F. Miller and Charles Clayton of San Francisco, Geo. C. Perkins of Butte, Governor Romualdo Pacheco and Jas. J. Green, by the Republicans; Senator Hager, Col. Jos. P. Hoge and Philip A. Roach of San Francisco, Major Snyder of Sonoma, Wm. Wait and Thos. Findley of Grass Valley, John Boggs of Colusa and C. P. Ryland of Santa Clara by the Democrats; John Bidwell of Butte, James Anthony of Sacramento, J. F. Swift of San Francisco, A. P. Catlin of Sacramento, W. C. Norton of Placer and F. S. Freeman of Yolo, by the Independents.

Let Us Have Peace.

We really wish San Diego were not quite so sensitive. One always feels curious while walking over thin ice or boggy ground. There is no telling at what moment you will drop through and become a victim of the fish or smother in the mud. We like to write about San Diego, and say good things about her; but we have learned to touch a favorite subject only semi-occasionally, and then with fear and trembling, because our friends down by the pretty little bay are so thin skinned that they are constantly misconstruing what we intended as a compliment or but the truth, into a sneer or a jeer. This is all wrong—radically unjust—and we sincerely hope our San Diego contemporaries will try and get over a habit that causes us a good deal of annoyance, and to say real plain. There is not a man, woman or child in Los Angeles who would not rejoice to see San Diego the sunset terminus of the Texas Pacific Railroad, and we would all derive a great deal of satisfaction from the knowledge that there were grounds for San Francisco's fear that San Diego will ultimately share the Pacific coast and Oriental trade with her. As we have said of San Bernardino, whatever is good for San Diego is good for Los Angeles, and a railroad or steam line connecting with or terminating at San Diego, must to a certain extent, affect all Los Angeles valley. It has been and will continue to be the policy of the HERALD, while it remains under its present management, to discourage and if possible remove the sectional jealousies which exist between certain localities in Southern California. They do no one good and create an unfavorable impression abroad. The interests of San Diego, San Bernardino and Los Angeles are so closely identified that one cannot disparage another without injuring itself, and the prosperity of one is always felt by the others. To the San Diego Union we extend the olive branch. Let there be peace between us. When we said that the future of San Diego was uncertain, we were thinking of Pompei, Sacramento, Herculaneum, Placerville, Callao, Mud Springs, Atlanta, Old San Pedro, Jerusalem, Hangtown, Sodom and Gomorrah, Mariposa, Troy and other cities whose appearance, rise and decline are matters of record, and not intending to disparage San Diego's great natural advantages nor to insinuate she would not become a great and mighty city.

Moving On.

Those of our people who do not believe that good can come out of Nazareth, nor that anyone can build railroad except the great corporation that arrogates to itself all the railroad building power in the world, will be astonished—agreeably or otherwise—to hear that an independent organization known as the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad Company have recently made progress which indicates that they are really in earnest and mean to build some railroad. From Chief Engineer CRAWFORD, who returned from Cajon Pass yesterday, we learn that the work of grading the Los Angeles and Independence road is progressing favorably. About 200 men are employed blasting out the sandstone, which is found much easier to remove than at first anticipated. About $15,000 worth of machinery, to be used on the road, including a large Burleigh steam drill, will leave San Francisco on the next steamer. One hundred Chinamen for grading between this city and the water will arrive in a day or two. Several schooners, loaded with piles and lumber for the new wharf, are now en route from San Francisco. Mr. CRAWFORD says the road bed between this city and the water will be ready for the iron on or before the first of May and he is confident that he can have the road completed and in operation from Truxton to the mouth of the Tunnel in Cajon Pass—a distance of ninety miles—by last of August. Of course this task can only be accomplished by having the building material on hand in time, and thus to a great extent depends on the activity and enterprise of our citizens. If we increase the stock subscription list from its present figures to $300,000, the Company will push the work without delay. Mr. CRAWFORD says when the road is built to Cajon Pass it will command the carrying trade not only of Inyo county but of Nevada and Arizona. When we remember that all this can be secured within the next six months, we have abundant incentive to arouse every person to energetic action.

The Beecher-Tilton Trial.

New York, March 1st.—In the Beecher trial this morning Tracy continued his speech. He said that after the Woodhull publication, Beecher, by the advice of Moulton, adopted a policy of silence, and that the only criticism that could be made by the defendant was that, having adopted this policy, he endeavored faithfully to carry it out. Tracy again referred to Bowen's part in the affair, and said at the time Tilton got Bowen to carry a letter to Beecher, he (Bowen) promised to support Tilton in his charges against Beecher. But two days after he became Tilton's enemy and deserted him. Referring to the conduct of the conspiracy against Beecher, the counsel said: "Tilton's manner of conducting the affair was to make statements and publish them, while Moulton's way was to keep silent and allow the other parties to make statements." Tracy said he would show that the friends of Tilton applied in December, 1872, to friends of Beecher and advised them to buy the New York Express, which was then for sale, for Beecher to take charge of it while Tilton should go abroad for some months, and when he returned to take the foremost place on the editorial staff. Meetings in Brooklyn and New York and at the Union League Club, this said Tracy, was nothing but a scheme to blackmail Beecher, as he would show by a witness almost as well known throughout the country as defendant himself.

Bowen on the Beecher Trial.

New York, March 1st.—Henry C. Bowen said to a reporter last evening that he had not sought notoriety in the Beecher trial, but was there for only the same reason—to tell the truth. It was not his quarrel and he was not a party to the suit. While amenable to criticism for his action and conduct in the Beecher trial, he had not taken any part in its proceedings and therefore he had believed it his duty to rebuke General Tracy for his uncalculated and unjust criticism in his opening speech. If either party should call on him, he would obey the order of the court, but otherwise it was far from his wishes to have anything to do with the trial.

Woodhull on the Warpath.

CHICAGO, March 1st.—A New York special states that Victoria Woodhull has addressed a letter to the Herald and Times, threatening them with libel suits for misquoting Tracy's opening speech, in which he is made to speak of her as the "most notorious prostitute the world has ever known." The report in the Tribune and other papers give the expression as the "most notorious peacher and practitioner of free love," etc. Woodhull declares that she will have a settlement with whoever is responsible for this slander upon her, whether it be Tracy or the papers.

What the Civil Rights Bill is Doing.

BALTIMORE, March 2d.—The Park Hotel closed to-day on account of the passage of the Civil Rights bill. ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 2d.—In consequence of the passage of the Civil Rights bill, and fearing trouble, both of the principal hotels have canceled their licenses and closed.

Train off the Track.

CINCINNATI, March 2d.—The West bound passenger train on the Indianapolis Railroad was thrown from the track last night, near Lawrenceburg, by a broken axle, and a tramp who was strolling a ride on the forward end of the postal car, was instantly killed. No other were injured. Nearly all the roads are running passenger trains on time to-day. The passage of freight trains is generally suspended, but they will probably run as usual to-night.

Beecher and Tilton.

New York, March 2d.—The general impression being that Beecher would take the stand in the great scandal suit to-day, the Brooklyn City Court-room and its approaches were crowded this morning. Seated among the lawyers for the prosecution was Francis D. Moulton—his second appearance since he left the witness stand. Mrs. Tilton was absent. Tilton sat in his usual place. E. J. Ovington was sworn, his testimony being confined mostly to a statement of remarks concerning Beecher and Mrs. Tilton, made by Tilton.

Congressional News.

WASHINGTON, March 2d.—In the Senate the Soldiers' Bounty Bill was passed by the casting vote of the Speaker.

The Tariff Bill passed as it came from the House—30 to 29.

In the House, the bill for the government of the District of Columbia was passed in the Committee of the Whole.

The consideration of the Arkansas question followed. Poland, the Chairman of the Select Committee, spoke in favor of the majority report, recommending that the present State Government be not interfered with. After debate, a vote was taken on the substitute, declaring Brooker, the legacy Governor, which was refused. The majority report was then adopted.

General Lorenzo Thomas, late Adjutant-General, died to-day, aged seventy-five years.

Reduction of Rates.

BALTIMORE, March 2d.—The Pennsylvania Central has reduced the fare from Baltimore to Chicago to $8, to St. Louis to $10, and to other points West in proportion.

Rain Up North.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3d.—It commenced raining here early yesterday morning and continued until the middle of the forenoon when it cleared. Reports from various parts of the State, from Yreka to Santa Barbara indicate that the rain has been general in many places, very much benefiting the late crops.

The Way the China Steamers are to be Run.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3d.—Information comes from Mr. Cox, agent of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, that, having lost the subsidy they will hereafter run only monthly steamers between this port and China, leaving San Francisco the first of every month and Hong Kong on the fifteenth. An extra steamer will be kept at each port for the accommodation of trade when there is press of freights. The three best steamers of the Company will be employed on the line, the City of Peking, the City of Tokio and the Great Republic. The Alaska will remain at Hong Kong and the Colorado at San Francisco, to be used in case of need. The rest, to the number of four or five, will be laid up here ready for any emergency.

When the tea trade begins in May, all of the steamers will be replaced, or as many as are needed. Especial exertions will be made to accommodate the San Francisco merchants, and there will then be run tri-monthly steamers if business warrants.

Changes are also to be made in the running of the coastwise lines. Hereafter there will be two steamers a month to Panama, leaving on the 12th and 27th of each month, and connecting with the line between Aspinwall and New York. A monthly steamer will be run to Panama stopping at all the intermediate Mexican and Central American ports. This will leave on the 20th of each month and will stop on its way up at all the coffee ports so as to accommodate San Francisco dealers. The Company will labor hereafter to favor the merchants at the various ports where they stop rather than the governments.

Not the Man.

EDITOR HERALD: I received notice yesterday that my namesake was recently expelled from Merrill Lodge No. 290, for embezzlement. Some who know me out do not know him, think I am the person. He, I think, is a native of the Bay State, while I am a Buckeye. I admit that I am not the essence of perfection, but my religious views forbid my defrauding my fellow-beings. I am slightly known by some of the teachers of this country.

Spiritualist Lecture.

Merced Theatre was crowded last night with eager auditors to hear the lecture of Miss Jennie Leys, "From Orthodoxy to Spiritualism." The lady's address was quite lengthy, but she infused into it so much earnestness and interest of narrative that she held the closest attention of her audience throughout. Miss Leys related some bitter and trying experiences of her earlier life as a Christian, of her marriage, desertion by her husband and divorce. She claimed to have been led by a spirit power against the principals of her early education against her will, and long-continued opposition to spiritualism. She confessed now to be influenced by a "spirit guide," who directs her course, predicts her future and speaks through her to her auditors without any volition of her own. Miss Leys is a pleasant, though rather rapid speaker. She infuses so much genuine faith of her own in her remarks that she almost denies her hearer the privilege of a doubt. The grounds which she takes are so radical, in many cases so novel and even visionary that one is almost spellbound while listening to her words. Miss Leys will lecture on "Social Freedom" at Merced Theatre next Sunday evening.

Anahiem and Vicinity.

Last week we took a trip to the Southern part of the county, partly for business and partly for pleasure. At Anaheim we found marks of improvement in nearly every direction. A new business block is just being completed on the main street, and the inhabitants are rejoicing over the completion of another brewery, which makes three that they have now. After spending a day in Anaheim we provided ourselves with a venerable broncho, that was warranted to be gentle, and started for Orange, about six miles distant. The broncho and we were all busy ploughing the ground or trimming their fruit trees. The farmers of this neighborhood think that they have a little the best land that there is in the county, and if rapid growth of trees is any criterion, they certainly have all they claim. The lemon and orange trees are looking well. One eucalyptus tree on the farm of Mr. Harwood measured twenty-eight inches in circumference at the base, and twenty-seven feet in height; it was but two years and a half from the seed. Orange, although a new community, is one of the most industrious and thriving in the State. The oldest settler dates back but three years, and now nearly every inch of ground for miles around is under cultivation. Several churches and school houses have been erected and a great many other improvements made which we have not space in this article to mention.

Death of James R. Kendall.

James R. Kendall, the clarinet player of the California Theatre orchestra, entered the music room about 7 o'clock last evening, said "good evening, gentlemen," to those around him and then wheeled about and fell dead to the floor. Mr. Kendall was a native of Massachusetts, and was a brother of the famous cornet player, Edward Kendall, whom Queen Victoria a few years since presented with a silver cornet. The deceased was a drummer-boy in the war of 1812 and intended to visit Philadelphia during the Centennial celebration for the purpose of marching with the veterans. The Kendall Brothers established the celebrated Brigade Band of Boston in 1825, and a short time since James received notification that he was the sole surviving member of the band. The deceased was 73 years of age and had the appearance of a man in good health. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the musical societies of the city.—S. P. Bulletin, March 1st.

Jasper Caldwell, a passenger on the West bound immigrant train en route from Texas for Visalia, where his farm he resides, for the present at Sacramento on Sunday evening, and was run over by three cars and terribly mangled.

The required discharge in the Construction Department at Mare Island took place on Saturday. It carried off everybody but the foreman, quartermen and three others.

DIED.

MAXEY.—In this city, yesterday, at 6 P. M., Warren Woodson Maxey.
Funeral services will be held at the residence of D. Lewis at 4 P. M. to-day. Friends of the family are invited to attend.

CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1875.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The air was fresh and exhilarating yesterday morning after the shower.

March is bringing us some of the coolest weather of the season.

J. M. Baldwin has a choice lot 60x165 feet which he will sell for $1,500.

G. W. Morgan offers one of the best residence lots on the hills at a very low figure.

A lot of carts were shipped to San Fernando yesterday for work in excavating the tunnel.

The shipments from Downey yesterday were 257 sacks meal, 36 sacks bran and 20 bales hay.

A man is wanted to cultivate 30 acres of land on shares. See notice in our want-column.

The new Postoffice is still in considerable confusion, as a result of the removal, but a prompt delivery of the mails is made.

G. W. Morgan offers one hundred and sixty acres of good land capable of being irrigated from artesian wells. Price low.

Fisher & Thatcher will not raffle their $1,000 diamond ring. They found a customer for the article and disposed of it yesterday.

The contract has been let for the construction of the $4,000 school house at Artesia, and work will be commenced upon it to-day.

The Main Street and Agricultural Park Railway will have but one car on the line to commence with. Others will be added as business increases.

Our Azusa neighbors are waxing indignant over repeated thefts of horses in that neighborhood and talk of appealing to Judge Lynch.

We regret to hear that Mr. Geo. G. Davis, proprietor of the Alden Fruit Works of this city, is dangerously ill. He has been confined to his bed for over a week.

Adolphe Celis has been appointed a member of the police force temporarily, to fill the place of Officer Cruz, who was disabled by a knife wound Sunday night.

Desmond, the hatter, will soon have a fine lot of the new Spring styles of hats on hand. Everybody who wants to be in the fashion buys his hats of Desmond.

The Ventura, for some cause unknown, was delayed at San Diego until 7 o'clock yesterday morning. This made a long day's waiting and a late departure for passengers from Los Angeles.

An interesting case to turfmen was tried before Judge Gray yesterday. It involved the right of a man to withdraw his bet when the race in question did not come off. By the decision of the jury it stands: No race, no bet.

They say that it has been cold enough in Kansas to freeze whisky and some of the drunkards have become solid men. The Los Angeles whisky never freezes but it occasionally makes "a stiff."

Officer Bilderrain yesterday effected the arrest of Jose Vara and Jesus Romero for assisting Jesus Tapia in resisting Officer Cruz last Sunday evening. They are under bonds to appear for examination on Monday.

We were in error yesterday in stating that our friend Will Tell, late of the Seaside Retreat, was in San Bernardino keeping a larger beer saloon. It is another man of the same name in San Bernardino whom we saw mentioned in the papers of that burg.

It now transpires that only one of the participants in the legal set-to at Anaheim last Monday was drunk and not both, as first reported. The intoxicated Lex called the sober Lex bad names and received a severe drubbing for it.

A number of our city's soiled doves were arraigned before Judge O'Melvery yesterday on the charge of keeping disorderly houses. They all entered the plea of guilty. Fines of $25 each were paid by Hattie Rusner and Katie Hall and the sentencing of the others was deferred until to-day.

We have received "Un Horoscopo Real," por D. Manuel Fernandez y Gonzalez, published by E. F. Teodoli, proprietor of La Cronica, of this city. The book is in Spanish and contains 45 pages of double-column matter. It is neatly printed on good paper, and the binding, done at the bindery of Mr. Perry, of this city, is an excellent job.

James Moulton, the colored boot-black who perpetrated the feat of razor-cutting extraordinary a short time since, was arraigned in the County Court yesterday and entered a plea of guilty to the charge brought against him. He will be sentenced to-day, and the next thing in order will probably be a trip up the coast.

Somebody has been after Santa Barbara again in the columns of the Eastern Press. This time a correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial makes out that our fair up-country neighbor is a mere blotch on God's footstool—a country not far removed from that bourn to which bad Eastern people go when they die. Of course Santa Barbara is indignant, and well she may be.

The County and City Board of Examination went into session yesterday in Good Templar Hall. There are 18 new applicants for certificates. The session will last till Saturday. The Joint Board of Examiners consists of County Superintendent Peck, Messrs. Quinn, Warren and McDonald, for the county, and City Superintendent Lucky, Mr. Kimball, Miss Palmer, Mrs. Baker, and the County Superintendent, ex-officio, for the city.

We are informed that Don Tomas Sanchez, formerly Sheriff of this county, is seriously ill.

Registered in the Catholic Church, during last week, we find eight baptisms, five deaths and three marriages.

LOS ANGELES IN EARNST.

Enthusiastic Railroad Meeting in favor of the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad.

About forty of the leading citizens of this city met in the office of the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad, in Temple block, last evening, for the purpose of considering ways and means for increasing the subscription to the stock of the road to $300,000.

The meeting was called to order by the Treasurer of the company, Mr. F. P. Temple, who stated the object for which the gentlemen had assembled.

On motion of Mr. J. G. Howard, Mayor Beaudry was called to the chair.

Mr. J. U. Crawford, Chief-Engineer of the road made a verbal report stating that he had been authorized by Mr. Pritchard agent of Senator Jones and Mr. T. W. Park to proceed with the tunnel in Cajon Pass, and that at an expense of about $15,000 per month he would complete the tunnel in ten months. He had contracted to have the wharf at Truxton completed by the end of May. He was now excavating the approaches to the ends of the tunnel, employing on the work 200 men. He said the work of grading the road between this city would be light and could be done at an expense of from $50 to $80 per mile. He explained that by building a wagon road through the pass, which could be done at a trifling expense, when the railroad was completed to the tunnel freight could be delivered on the Mohave side of the mountain at rates which would land it in Panamint at a saving of from $35 to $50 per ton, and a gain in time from 7 to 8 days. The road could be built to a point which would secure us the trade of the mines in 10 months.

The chair said that the clear and concise statement of Mr. Crawford ought to impress all present with the importance of aiding the work by taking all the stock they could.

In response to a question, Mr. Temple stated that the amount of stock now subscribed was about $180,000, including $40,000 from Inyo county.

Mr. Clauson spoke at length of the great advantages of the road, and said that many people seemed to regard their subscriptions in the light of a donation. He did not think this. He had lived in mining sections, and he knew that their trade was regular, not once in a year, as with grain growing localities. He cited the Virginia City and Truckee road as the best paying road in the United States, and closed by urging all to take hold of our road with a will.

Mr. J. G. Howard took the floor, and after alluding to his usual modesty and diffidence, proceeded to make a telling speech. He said he had just returned from a visit to Panamint and Coso and he had seen enough to satisfy him that there are very rich and extensive mines out there, whose trade would pour millions into this city if the road was built. He said Mr. Victor Beaudry, brother of the Chairman, had recently purchased a mine in Coso for $10,000 out of which he would take millions. He said communication between these mines and this city now required from 15 to 20 days, and all were anxious for the road. Closing his remarks, Mr. Howard complimented Mr. Temple on the enterprise he had evinced in pushing this work along, and said he was the most generous and liberal of our wealthy men.

Messrs. Barrows and Newmark gave some information in regard to progress that had been made by the committee appointed by the mass meeting.

While discussing the canvassing proposition, Mr. Newmark suggested that if some one could invent some way of reaching the rich men of this city no canvassing would be needed.

Colonel Peel reported that the people of Los Angeles felt kindly toward the enterprise and would subscribe liberally. He called the attention of the property-owners of this city to the fact that if the road was built it would double the value of their property, and he assured them that if it was not built it would decline one-half below its present value. The logic of this argument was recognized by all.

Mr. Thom proposed that each subscriber should agree within a given time to double the amount of his subscription, either by inducing others to subscribe or taking it himself.

Mr. Lord urged greater energy in canvassing.

Just at this stage of proceedings, Mr. Baker struck the key note by stating that those present fully understood the subject; that speeches did not amount to much and that now was the time and there was the place to put down as much as anyone—to double his former subscription if necessary.

A subscription paper was produced and the following amounts subscribed in five minutes:

J. S. Clauson.....$5 000
F. P. Temple.....5 000
J. G. Howard.....1 000
H. D. Barrows.....1 000
A. B. Chapman.....1 000
R. W. Wolfkill.....6 000
B. W. Baker.....500
M. F. Cornell.....500
A. Machado.....500
Frank Sabachie.....500
C. Thom.....500
J. M. Wolfkill.....500
B. Sawyer.....500
M. J. Brooks.....500
D. Freeman.....1 000
P. Beaudry.....4 000
W. Rowland.....1 000
H. S. Orme.....500
T. W. Lord.....1 000
B. L. Peet.....500
E. M. Ross.....500

The Chairman announced that $31,900 had been subscribed during the evening. Col. J. G. Howard moved that a committee of three, consisting of Temple, Griffith and Beaudry, be appointed a committee with authority to add seven more gentlemen of their own choice to their number, and that the ten be requested to canvass this city, and solicit subscriptions to stock. Motion carried unanimously.

Maj. Ganahl remarked that the engineer, J. U. Crawford, informed him that $50,000 would grade 50 miles of this road; that being the case, he would make a motion that the Committee on Subscriptions be authorized to telegraph Messrs. Jones and Park that it is the sense of this meeting that the required subscription will be raised by the 15th inst. The motion was carried without a dissenting voice.

The meeting then adjourned.

A subscription list, which now amounts to about $60 has been started in the office of La Cronica, for the relief of the most distressed of Easterners and the mother of Costa, the two unfortunate young men lately executed in Sacramento.

MY DEAD PUPIL.

SORNET BY AN OLD TEACHER.

My sweet, dead child, I look upon thy face,
While round thy couch thy weeping kindred stand;
Lightly thy soft hair falls across my hand,
Each curl yet lustrous in its rounded grace.
The voices of the Spring are in the land;
Thou canst not hear the music of the rain;
Vainly for thee the wild flowers bloom again.
Our very tears thou canst not understand.
Last Spring thy footsteps were upon the plain;

I saw thee, happy, playing on the grass
Among thy mates;—but all sweet seasons pass;
Spring glides to Summer, thence to Autumn's grain.
Thy Spring passed early, and the angels mild
Have borne thee home, Thou art not dead,
Dear child.

Mrs. DuBois.

We gladly present the following resolutions, adopted by the Board of Education. They are merited by long and faithful service. Every teacher associated with Mrs. D. and every parent whose children have been under her instruction will heartily indorse the recommendation of the Board:

At a meeting of the Board of Education of the city of Los Angeles, held February 24, 1875, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, Mrs. Clara G. DuBois has presented her resignation as a teacher in our public schools; and

WHEREAS, Mrs. DuBois has been a faithful and successful teacher in the schools for several years; and

WHEREAS, We consider it proper and just to give her some special expression of our confidence in her ability as a teacher and excellence as a woman, as well as to express our regret at the necessity that leads to her resignation; therefore,

Resolved, 1st. That Mrs. DuBois has given entire satisfaction during her connection with our schools, and that it is with regret we accept her resignation.

2d. That we most heartily recommend her to any Board of Education seeking the services of a diligent, conscientious teacher.

3d. That a copy of these resolutions be signed by the President and Secretary of the Board, and presented to Mrs. DuBois.

H. D. BARROWS, Pres't.
M. KREMER, Secretary.

Agricultural Colleges Do Not Make Farmers.

President Anderson, of the Kansas Agricultural College, shows from his official records that not a single graduate of that institution for the past seven years has become a farmer. He thinks the records of other agricultural schools will show that not one graduate in a hundred seeks farming as an employment. This is another illustration of the fact that the most beautiful theories often result in the most complete and disastrous failures.

Bachelor's wives and maid's children are always well taught.

Let no fond sire a boy's ambition trust,
To make him study, let him see he must.
—Gracie.

Children released from school—
Like sportive deer they coursed about,
And shouted as they ran
Turning to mirth all things of earth,
But the teacher sat remote from all,
A melancholy man.
—Hood.

Miss Maggie Hamilton, late of the San Gabriel school, formerly teacher in the Indianapolis public schools, has been chosen to fill the position vacated by Mrs. DuBois. We extend her a cordial welcome to the city. Her success and popularity in the places named give assurance that she is a valuable acquisition to our corps of teachers. What is San Gabriel's loss will be Los Angeles' gain.

Miss Ella Lee Hall.

We congratulate the citizens of San Gabriel upon securing Miss Hall to fill the position vacated by Miss Hamilton. It is not flattery to say that no teacher has made more friends than Miss Hall has done during her brief sojourn among us. All who remain here acquainted during our last County Institute will be glad to learn that she has secured a permanent and pleasant situation in Los Angeles county.

A German writer, complaining of the difficulties in the pronunciation of the English language, cites the word "Boz," which he says is pronounced "Dickens."

In New York city Sheriff O'Brien receives $70,000 per annum, while female teachers receive less than $700. Equation—O'Brien equals 100 school teachers. How does that look?

More truth than poetry—An English publisher advertises: "Joaquin Miller, half calf."

Compendium for grammarians—What is the plural of "grand-daddy long legs?"

Judge W. W. Crump has recently presented a very large and handsome globe to the Richmond (Va.) High School. Who will confer a blessing upon this community by a similar presentation to the Los Angeles High School?

There are 234 institutions in our country that grade as Colleges, having an aggregate of 45,000 pupils. Of these, five have more than 1,000 pupils, viz: Oberlin, 1,330; Harvard, 1,196; University of Michigan, 1,163; Columbia, 1,114; and Yale, 1,031.
